Note: If females are pregnant or in heat, there is an additional fee incurred. If your pet is pregnant, do you want us to:

- Spay (this will terminate the pregnancy)
- Not perform the procedure.

Do You Authorize a Pre-Operative Blood Screen: We strongly recommend doing a routine blood screen prior to your pet receiving anesthesia today. The administration of anesthesia can sometimes affect organ function, especially the liver and kidneys. This important blood screen helps us determine if there are any additional precautions we may need to take prior to your pet's procedure today.

This pre-operative blood screen will add an additional $48

- Yes, I authorize this blood screen
- No, I decline the recommended test

Do You Authorize an IV Catheter Placement: Anesthesia can have affects on the liver, kidneys, and lower the body's blood pressure, often without warning signs. During an anesthetic procedure, sometimes emergencies do happen, and certain drugs are needed to be given, typically intra-venously. To help combat these issues, we recommend placing an IV Catheter during the anesthetic procedure, to help maintain blood pressure, as well as give us venous access should an emergency occur. The IV will add an additional $42
